

Reporting and project monitoring

Clarity and information: manage projects with precise insights

Product description

Information on cost and schedule status and their development is the key to successful project management. We use a data extract to create relevant reports and dashboards from the systems used on the project (e.g. for time recording, costing and invoicing as well as construction site management). The information can be checked in an app developed in-house and compiled into a meaningful report. This gives you a good overview of project progress and key performance indicators.

Our services

- Creation of data extracts and preparation of the data
- Definition of key performance indicators (KPIs) together with your project team
- Configuration of reports and dashboards from used systems
- Provision of an application for monthly project reporting with targeted reporting and analysis options

Your advantages

- Gain information earlier and thus make proactive decisions
- Time and cost savings through timely detection of deviations
- Efficient resource utilisation through clear information on resource allocation
- Targeted project management
